It is important we show that we care.
But how do we do that?

This video tells us about two stories Buddhists share, to show how to be caring. Watch it and see if you can work out...

Who is being caring in the stories?
How do you know they are being caring?
Who do they care for?

So how have you shown you are caring at home?
Have you been caring to ALL your family?

Try to show you care every day!
